PEOPLE'S PARTY.

A STATE MEETING HELD IN SEDALIA.

The Future Work to be Mapped Out—Uniting Their Forces—The Committees Appointed.

A state meeting of the People's Party was begun in the circuit court room at the court house today in accordance to a call from M. V. Carroll, chairman of the state central committee, of Butler, Mo.

The work of this morning was informal, but considerable business was transacted. The remote counties sent delegates while the representatives from a majority of the counties were members of the county central committees or men prominent in the party.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Carroll. C. E. Gardner, secretary of the state central committee, having called the roll, it was found that there was a quorum of both the executive and the state central committee. Most of the morning was passed in appointing committees which are as follows:

Resolutions—W. T. Foster, of St. Louis; W. C. Aldredge, California, Mo.; P. Thompson, Bronaugh; Hugh Tudor, Chillicothe, and W. F. Atkeson, of Butler.

On programme for present meeting—J. Weller Long, of Warrensburg; Frank Griffin, Maryville, and H. A. Watson, Harrisonville.

On plan of state work—G. P. Garland, Warrensburg; T. J. Hendrickson, Rozier; Dr. J. C. Kelley, Brookfield; M. M. Pease, West Plains, and E. T. Behrens, Sedalia.

There was also a committee appointed to send resolutions from this meeting to the Kansas populists, at Topeka, and the National Reform Press Association, in session at Washington, D. C., to-day. The committee was composed of M. V. Carroll, W. C. Aldridge and W. O. Atkeson.

Prominent among the matters that will come before the meeting will be a resolution opposing the issue of bonds by the state for road improvement. One prominent populist stated that the party was not opposed to road improvement but was against any measure that proposed to improve them by the issuing of bonds by the state.

The meeting was formally opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the work will continue far into the night, as the representatives are desirous of completing their work to-day. Among the prominent populists present are:

W. T. Foster, the "weather prophet" and editor of the St. Joe daily and weekly Wasp; W. C. Aldredge, editor California News; Dr. J. C. Kelley, editor Brookfield Union; J. Weller Long, editor Warrensburg Union; C. E. Gordon, editor Marshall Watchman and secretary of the people's party state central committee; W. O. Atkeson, who was people's party candidate for judge of the 29th circuit and at present contesting the election of Judge J. H. Lay; Pierce Hackett, Virginia, Mo., ex-vice-president Missouri Alliance; W. T. Cole, Butler, probate judge of Bates county; T. J. Hendrickson, Rosier, ex-Union Labor representative of Bates county; Hugh Tudor, Chillicothe, and P. Thompson, Bronaugh, the latter two being people's party candidates for representative.

TO COMPLETE THE COLLEGE

Plans of the George R. Smith College are now ready for the inspection of Contractors.

Mr. Wm. La Porte, of Little Rock, Ark., is in the city as a representative of the Southern Educational Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, to receive bids for the construction of the George R. Smith college, for negroes, in this city.

The college is to be erected at a cost of about $35,000 and to be completed by January 1st, 1893, according to the terms upon which the ground was donated. The college is beautifully situated in the northern part of the city and commands an imposing view of the surrounding country. The foundation was built three years ago and has since been waiting the further building of the college.

The construction will now be pushed rapidly forward and it is the hope of those interested to complete the structure if possible this summer. The plans can be seen at McLaughlin Bros. on Ohio street.

A Clever Steal.

Detective Frank Barnett arrested a negro named Noble Perry, this morning for stealing coal from the Missouri Pacific. Justice Fisher fined Perry $2.50 and costs. The negro was unable to pay his fine and was sent to jail.

Perry as well as a large number of other negroes has resorted to a novel way of securing all the coal that he wanted. The heavy grade in the western limits of the city causes the Missouri Pacific freight trains to enter at a very slow rate of speed. This allows an opportunity for the coal cars to be boarded and the coal thrown off along the track. The thief then goes back and collects the coal. The quantity of coal lost in this manner during a winter would cost no small sum.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

James Gardner Expires While Attending to His Work—An Old Resident of Sedalia.

At 5 o'clock last evening James Gardner, living at No. 523 West Seventh street, expired suddenly and unexpectedly while engaged in doing his evening work, preparatory for the night.

Mr. Gardner had just entered the house after returning from the barn where he had given his cow a pail of water. Being seized with a feeling of weakness, he sat down upon a sofa, thinking that he would soon grow better. He started to arise and as he reached for his bucket which was on the floor near by, he gasped suddenly and fell back lifeless. His wife and daughter, Mrs. Frank Mead, wife of the late Conductor Frank Mead, ran to his assistance, but without avail. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause of his death.

Mr. Gardner had reached the ripe age of 76 years and was honored and respected by all who knew him. He had long been a resident of Sedalia and was the well known proprietor of the popcorn stand on the east side of Ohio street, between Third and Fourth. Together with his wife, he lived with his daughter, Mrs. Mead.

The funeral services will take place at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

STOCK SALES.

Some Suggestions for a Horse and Mule Market.

To the Editor of the Democrat.

A matter of great importance for the owners of horses and mules, and also for those parties who need to buy draft animals, is the establishment of a regular market for a certain day of the week, during the spring season.

My suggestions in this respect would be as follows:

Let it be known throughout the county, and those adjoining, that every Saturday, during spring, private and public sales will be held in Sedalia of live stock of every description.

Let some of the retired farmers, living in Sedalia, take this matter in hand, especially when it comes to a question of "title."

In my opinion, there is no doubt that such a movement as we have suggested will be of great benefit to all parties concerned.

POLICE COURT.

A Defendant Arrested and Put in Jail—The Plaintiff Has no Reason to Complain.

J. J. Shaw was arraigned for intoxication, the third time since the 16th of the month. A bank book with a credit of between $700 and $800 was found upon his person. Judge Rauck gave him a lecture and warned him that a repetition of his convivialism would cost him a large amount. Shaw was fined $10.

Albert Wright and Martin Biggs were each fined $6 for intoxication. W. B. Rose, for trespassing upon the property of the Missouri Pacific, was fined $5.

Chas. Brown, colored, was arraigned for disturbing the peace of Martha Carr. The case took a peculiar turn from the fact that the defendant and one of her witnesses, Lucy Cooper, were arrested last night upon the charge of lewd conduct and placed in jail. Brown, in the meantime, has no one to prosecute him.

Will Filed.

The will of Patrick O'Conner, deceased, was filed to-day in the office of Probate Judge Hoy.

THE CHAUTAUQUA.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR THE JUNE ASSEMBLY.

A Meeting of the Officers and Board of Directors at the Commercial Club Rooms.

There was a called meeting of the officers and board of directors of the state Chautauqua at the commercial club rooms yesterday afternoon. The object of the meeting was to receive reports and take action upon any matters that might arise concerning the state assembly which meets in Sedalia, June 22, and continues until July 4th.

President C. W. Robbins, of Sedalia, presided, with the following gentlemen present: Rev. J. Spencer, of Warrensburg, secretary, and Rev. R. R. Marquess, John Walmsley, J. E. Hall, Judge D. C. Metsker, J. G. White and F. A. Sampson.

Secretary Spencer, who is contracting with lecturers, singers, etc., who are to constitute the program in June, made a report of his work that proved highly satisfactory to the board which endorsed his contracts throughout. The program has not been completed. The secretary announced contracts with the following:

Prof. Merrill, of Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., the well-known reader, noted for his rendition of "Esmeralda;" three days.

Rev. Anna H. Shaw, of Washington, D. C., lecturer on social and political subjects, and who appeared in Sedalia during the present lecture season, will deliver five lectures.

Rev. Cate, a prominent Presbyterian divine, will deliver one lecture.

Jennie Jackson Jubilee Singers, of Cincinnati, seven days.

Rev. Sam Jones, the famed evangelist, has been engaged to deliver six lectures and will remain four days. This will be the first time the evangelist has been in Sedalia for a number of years and his presence alone will draw an immense crowd, for notwithstanding the fact that the best of men grow old, Sam Jones seems to be perennial in vigor and originality.

Miss Marion Lowell, of Sedalia, was engaged to teach a class in elocution and DeSarte, morning and evening, during the entire meeting.

The musical director of the assembly will be Dr. Lenig who filled the same responsible position at Pertle Springs in 1892. This announcement will be received with pleasure by all who know this talented gentleman.

Considerable routine business of minor importance to the public was transacted.

Mr. Christopher, of Pertle Springs, was present and made a short talk, in which he stated that while Pertle Springs and Warrensburg regretted very much to lose the annual meetings of the State Chautauqua Assembly, yet inasmuch as such was the case, they were united in making the meeting in Sedalia a grand success.

The meeting then adjourned to await a call from the president.

Shipped a Long Distance.

A large consignment of eggs by express from Lone Oak, Texas, to the great manufacturing town of Lowell, Mass., naturally brought up the question of how much eggs sold for after being shipped such a long distance. A hotel proprietor who was standing near involuntarily placed both hands upon his pocket-book as a well known egg and poultry dealer estimated that the eggs would sell at about 40 cents per dozen.

The Public Library.

In securing the public library, the people of Sedalia are asked to carefully examine the plan presented by Mr. Weltmer. It is the best that can be devised and has been highly successful in cities throughout the country. The proposition is a good one and Sedalia should make every possible exertion to take advantage of it.

Real Estate Going Up.

The real estate firms are holding their prices up for spring, and some good property has been sold at quite an advance. The firm of Woodfin & Thatcher say they will not advance the prices for about thirty days on any of their properties. Parties who wish good properties or houses in any part of the city, had better call on them. They write fire insurance, best companies, loan money, buy and sell real estate.—314 Ohio street.

A WARM RECEPTION.

GIVEN TO THE A. P. A. BY GOVERNOR STONE.

Some Plain Talk to a Committee by the Chief Executive of Missouri.

Quite a little scene was enacted in the governor's office yesterday, says the Jefferson City correspondent of the Republic. Very few things occurring in that office come to the outside, but this leaks out from a gentleman who happened to step in while the governor's visitors were present and overheard the subjoined interview, which he repeated to your correspondent. Several Kansas City gentlemen called upon the governor and said they desired to confer with him in regard to appointments in that city.

"Certainly, I will be glad to hear you, gentlemen. Have a seat," said his excellency in his blandest way. After a few minutes' indifferent conversation one of the visitors said:

"Governor, I am the president of the Kansas City branch of the American Protective Association. We come to ask that when you appoint police commissioners at Kansas City you will appoint Protestants and not Catholics."

"Why?"

"Because we want Americans and men who are for America first."

"I understand you," said the governor; "I understand you, gentlemen."

men. You represent that organization know as the A. P. A.'s. Well, I am against that organization. I have no sympathy with its purposes. I am utterly and unalterably opposed to the introduction of any religious test into our politics. I am a protestant. I am not a Catholic. I do not believe in the chief dogmas of the Catholic faith. I do not believe in the doctrine of transubstantiation, nor do I believe that the pope is the apostolic head of the church, or anything of that kind. But if some other man does believe it, that is his business, not mine. I know a great many good men and noble women who do believe these things. I know a great many splendid Americans, Catholics too, who are patriotic men, ready to bear arms in defense of the country, who contribute much to our enterprise, literature and statesmanship, who pay taxes, who bear all the burdens of citizenship—and any proposition that would exclude these people from all participation in our civil affairs is monstrous and intolerable to me. I have no sympathy with it.

"But we think you state the case a little too strongly."

"No, I do not. I have been interviewed two or three times by the officers and representatives of this organization. I have been told distinctly that the organization is opposed to any Catholic being elected or appointed to any civil office. Is not that true?"

"But we are not proposing to make religious views a political test."

"Well, I have so understood it. During the last campaign your organization opposed Lieutenant church dominating the state, but interfering with political affairs, and whenever I find any attempt of that sort being made you will find me at war with it. But I am equally opposed to any protestant church, or all of them combined, dominating or interfering with political affairs. Because a man is a preacher or a priest, or the member of a church, he should not on that account lose interest in public affairs or be denied part in their conduct. But when any church as a church undertakes to exercise control over the affairs of state, then I protest. The most intolerant and insufferable of all things is religious bigotry. The church should keep its hands off the state. Contact of that kind tends to degrade the church and destroy the state. And the state, likewise, must keep its hands off the church as long as the church attends to its own high and holy mission."

"But, governor, the Catholics get all the offices in Kansas City. They represent but 25 per cent. of the population, and yet they have 75 per cent. of the police officers."

"You mean then to tell me that 25 Catholics can outwit and control 75 protestants. I do not belong to that breed of protestants. Yet, if what you say is true I cannot see that it makes any difference if the police officers are good citizens and fit for the places, unless they are appointed, because they are Catholics. If any man is appointed for that reason, the men who appointed him are unfit to hold a public trust in this country. The police board in Kansas City is composed of three gentlemen, two of whom I am informed are protestants and one a Catholic. That board appoints the policemen. I think a Catholic can make as good but not a whit better policeman than a Methodist or Presbyterian. No gentlemen, when I come to appoint police commissioners at Kansas City I will endeavor to select honorable and representative citizens of your city, who will discharge their duty fearlessly; but I shall not make a man's church relations a test. Death of a Midwife.

A dispatch from Wichita, Kas., says that the tiniest atom of humanity known to the medical fraternity of Wichita died yesterday after a life of just ten days. The infant was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, of that city, was born February 12, and at the time of birth weighed just 19 ounces. The doctors declared she could live but a few minutes, but she grew and thrived and ate and laughed and cried just like other children. Her mouth was so tiny that she had to be fed through the smallest tubing procurable, and her wardrobe consisted of doll's clothes. She died from spasms. When laid in her little coffin the infant measured just 11 inches.

RELIABLE AND NEWSY!

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

CAPT. JENKS, of Pennsylvania, is said to be Mr. Cleveland's latest selection for attorney general. Why wasn't he named as secretary of the navy?

MR. HARRISON seems determined to signal his retirement to private life by pushing through a scheme to annex to this country the great leprosy headquarters of the world.

It is hoped that congress will spoil the Hawaiian annexation job. The vitality can be knocked out of the scheme by repealing the sugar bounties and putting merchantable sugar on the free list.

THE Springfield papers are getting anxious for active work to commence on the north and south railroad. The Democrat of that city urges immediate action, as will be seen by an article which appears in this issue.

GOVERNOR STONE gave an A. P. A. committee some plain talk on matters of church and state and it is to be hoped the members who heard him received some new ideas as to the privileges of American citizenship.

A KORRESPONDENT in to-day's DEMOCRAT suggests the inauguration of regular stock sales in this city. If taken hold of by practical men it can be made to largely increase the stock business here as well as the general trade of our merchants and business men.

WARRENSBURG has a postoffice fight on hand, not over the selection of postmaster, however, but about the location. The office has lately been removed to a new building, and the business men in the section around the old office are up in arms. The Star asks in its headlines, "Have you been to Post Oak to get your mail?"

THE newspapers of Memphis are having a free-for-all fight over some odorous local matters says the Detroit Free Press, and Sam Jones has recently been there to tell the people that "Memphis is the last town this side of hell that ought to call for nice preachers." It appears that Sam's style was not refined enough for some of his hearers, and he devoted an entire sermon to telling them that the worst was entirely too good for them.

MR. CLEVELAND does not expect the next session of the international monetary conference to accomplish anything, and he will not be disappointed. The purpose of the conference, ostensibly, was to bring about free coinage of silver, but, remembering that the influence that dominated the conference was the very influence that had demoralized silver, no sensible man really expected any practical headway toward free coinage to be made. When a thing is to be done it is foolish to place the doing of it in unfriendly hands. If silver is ever restored to its place in our monetary system it must be done by the influence of the producing classes in the United States.

THE Gazette opposes the bill lately passed by the legislature for the protection of working men in their rights to join labor organizations, because the bill abridges the right of the employer of making contract with his employe not to join labor organizations. Unfortunately this is a practical world and we have to meet practical questions. There was evidence to show that certain corporations, employing thousands of laboring men, had virtually conspired to deprive their employes of the right to organize. It was to preserve this right to the employe that the law was enacted. No employer should assume the right to dictate what party, church or organization his employe shall not join. That is for the employe to determine in his capacity as an American citizen.

TOE THE MARK.

Our eastern brethren of the democratic persuasion less than one year ago grew frantic whenever silver legislation was mentioned.

With zeal in argument which almost amounted to violence they insisted that we western fellows could not be counted as orthodox tariff reformers unless we ceased to talk of silver and consented to make the presidential contest on the tariff issue.

Well, we consented. The west put its free coinage principles in its pocket and proceeded to use both hands in battling for tariff reform.

The free coinage men west and south consented to the proposal of their eastern brethren to drop the silver question for the present and settle the tariff issue once for all.

But now what do we see? The November election placed the democracy in the ascendancy in the executive mansion, the senate and the house, and unsuspecting Americans everywhere felt that the hour had come when our tariff would be reformed and put upon a revenue basis.

But our eastern friends who were so vociferous in favor of tariff reform seem suddenly to have changed on the political switch board.

Their tariff principles are forgotten and they are now pushing the silver question to the front to the exclusion of all others.

Now does this sudden change of base mean that our eastern friends are shallow, dull political economists, unable to recognize real issues when they are presented, and therefore unsafe political leaders, or does it mean that they were insincere and dishonest when they declared the tariff question to be the paramount issue, and therefore worthy only of the contempt of all honest men?

It matters little which horn of the dilemma they choose, they must appear in a ridiculous position before the American people, and unless they are playing for pelf—unless the "jingling of the guinea helps the hurt that honor feels"—these fellows must suffer in self respect when they so suddenly seek to change positions in the very face of the people to whom they appeal for confidence.

But they must toe the mark; they declared the tariff to be the paramount issue and they must meet it. The tariff must be reformed and the western and southern members of congress should push this reform to the front and flaunt it in the face of those who were lately its sworn champions.

Let it be reformed at once to the end that it shall no longer become the wooden horse to transport the envoys of Wall street into the sacred precincts of our national conventions.

Make these loud-mouthed tariff reformers who cast reproaches upon all who mentioned anything else in the last campaign now toe the mark themselves.

Drop everything else and hold them to tariff reform as an issue.

OUR Missouri lawmakers are celebrating Washington's birthday today and refreshing in their breasts the fire of patriotism and love of country. Washington was a great man; he was a patriot; he loved his country; he loved his state, and the DEMOCRAT believes Washington would have heartily favored a law which would have permitted the history of Old Virginia to be taught in the common schools of that state.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Our Married Men" company will play a return engagement at the opera house, Thursday, February 23, the following is what an exchange has to say of them.

"Our Married Men," as presented last night at the Grand Opera House to a large audience, is a vast improvement on the usual run of farce comedies. The fun, songs and specialties have been brought up to date, and a plentiful supply of laughter has been infused into the performance making it lively, crisp, exceedingly funny and enjoyable, from a musical standpoint. The company is a clever one and works actively and harmoniously. "Our Married Men" is a musical farce comedy with a plot free from coarseness and one that society can attend without the slightest fear. The performance was one of the best that has been presented in Evansville this season. Good work is done by Clark and Williams who are as entertaining as ever. They are a well known pair to the amusement public and as funmakers they can be classed as top notchers. They do much that is original. They also possess good voices. Their eccentric ways and funny sayings keep the audience in one continuous laughter. Their dancing brought down the house. Miss Carrie Scott as Kitty, the soubrette was charming. She is pretty, sings and dances immensely. Her song of Mary and the lamb received a double encore. She acted the part of the domestic and wife splendidly. Arthur Kerns, W. B. Wheeler, Miss Marie Madeline, Irene Davenport and Edwin Moore were all that could be expected. They play their respective parts exceedingly well and added much to the success of the play. The house was packed and the show made a pronounced hit, as it was one of the best entertainments witnessed here in a long time.—Evansville, Indiana, Courier.

WANTS THE ROAD.

Springfield Getting Anxious to See Work Commenced.

From the Springfield Democrat.
Springfield is out for a new northern railway. It is not wedded to any man's scheme or any petted enterprise beyond a railway that will give us a chance to compete with Kansas City and St. Louis rates. As it stands discrimination is deftly made against this city in favor of the points east and northwest of us.

As showing substantial interest in a new railway the citizens of Springfield have subscribed to the stock of a new railway. The money and notes have been ready for some time.

There is an unexplained delay in the tangible appearance of the railway that was to be the beneficiary of this subscription money—the sum of $100,000. This railway project was the Springfield, Sedalia, Marshall & Northern. It received what it asked of this city, even to the right of way.

It is time that we should know what the projectors of the enterprise mean to do about it. They seem to be lost in the shuffle, and it is truth to say that faith is becoming shaky.

Meantime another enterprise is moving along quietly toward the south, if indications go for anything, asking no subscriptions and yet hoping to open a territory that will be valuable to this city.

These facts remind us that the delay of the Springfield, Sedalia, Marshall & Northern prospect has about exhausted patience. There is nothing to show that there should be dalliance longer.

Chicago as Bad as Russia.

From the Buffalo Commercial.

How would it do to restrain our indignation against Russia for its treatment of the Jews, and for awhile look around and see if there are not some sufferers on this side of the Atlantic? The Illinois investigating committee for the legislature has found in Chicago rooms in which girls work from 10 to 12 hours a day for from $1.75 to $4 a week—rooms of an area of 20x40 feet. In some of these rooms there were sixty-five girls packed in. And the surroundings of these wretched prisons—they were not worthy to be called by any other name—were reeking with filth of all kinds. It would trouble Russia to beat that.

SENSIBLE TALK.

A Negro Preacher on the Hughes Case.

The following card from Rev. J. F. Sage, pastor of the church to which Hughes, the negro who was shot at Moberly for insulting a white woman, belongs is refreshing and sensible. It is good advice he gives the members of his race:

MOBERLY, Mo., Feb. 19, '92.
ED. DEMOCRAT:—John A. Hughes came to Moberly, presented himself to the A. M. E. church as a member in good standing, we accepted him on his letter from St. Charles, recommending him as a Christian gentleman. We must say that he brought reproach upon the A. M. E. church, and got just what he bought. The gentleman that did the shooting did just what I would have done if the lady had been a sister of mine. Negroes must learn to walk behind white ladies without insulting them and following them to their homes. "What ye sow ye shall reap," and I suppose John Hughes reaped what he sowed. The sooner southern negroes know what Missouri is the sooner they will learn to avoid trouble. Such negroes as John Hughes are the greatest detriment our race has to its progress, and the sooner they are in judgment the better for the country and the race.

J. F. SAGE.
Commenting on the above the Moberly Democrat says:
"Considering all the above there can be but one conclusion and that is that Hughes is a monomaniac on the subject of familiarity with white women, and one that is very dangerous in society. The greatest regret in that there is a possibility of him being turned loose sooner or later on society, with his mania increased by suffering and confinement. He should be induced to go back to his old home in Mississippi where such as he do not live to a very ripe old age."

Her Work Is Very Effective.
The Springfield Democrat has the following complimentary notice of a lady who endeared herself to many a home in Sedalia:

"Miss Jennie Smith, the noted railroad evangelist, awakened much interest among the employees of the Frisco shops. A meeting was held there Friday and another yesterday at noon. Miss Jennie talked to the workmen in her characteristic earnest style. The evils of intemperance were clearly depicted and her tender allusion to happy home life touched many hearts."

"Miss Jennie" spoke to a large audience at the Grand opera house Sunday afternoon. Her remarks were of a general nature, but were timely and to the point. She is not a fluent speaker in the common acceptance of the term, but each word uttered by her bears the stamp of truth and her labor is very effective.

OFFICE OF THE SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, SEDALIA, MO.
February 20, 1893.

TO THE PUBLIC:
We have to-day closed a contract for the purchase of a large stock of two drawer, four drawer and six drawer Domestic sewing machines with a dealer retiring from the trade. We wish to inform the public that these machines, together with some other leading makes of machines will be placed on the floor of our office, 114 East Fifth street, on February 27th next and will be closed out at the manufacturers' net cash price. This will be a bargain and no fake. We invite inspection.

THE SINGER MFG. CO.
A Cross of Gold.
The new church of the Sacred Heart on West Third street presented a beautiful appearance this morning as the sun began to illumine its windows and to tip its spires with light. Upon the smaller spire, the cross has just been placed and the effect of the sunlight upon it was noticed by a number of people. So brilliant was its golden splendor that the darker shades of the brick and slate threw the cross into bold relief against the shadowy west until it seemed to be miraculously suspended in the air, burning with a glory unspeakable.

Ministers of the gospel are requested to call at our drug store and we will give them (free of charge,) one $2.00 box of "Cactarine," or Extract of Mexican Cactus, which cures Catarrh, Hay Fever and all throat and nasal troubles.

AUG. 1. FLEISCHMANN.
How to Save Doctor Bills.
From Chicago Daily Calumet.

Many a doctor's bill has been saved by the use of Chamberlain's cough remedy. The name is a household word in many parts of the country. Chamberlain's medicines have an extensive sale in the World's fair city, and many people testify to the merits of their different remedies. For sale by Aug. Fleischmann, druggist.
